DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 17 is objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant refers to a "the aperture" in line 2, there is no antecedent basis for this limitation. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 12-14, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by J.B. Dickson (1,922,618).
3. Dickson discloses a lens having a curved refracting surface defining an optical axis (30), a first light source (F, 18) positioned in the optical axis, a second light source spaced apart from the first light source and away from the optical axis (28) and the lens having a light transmissive portion between the first and second light sources (figs 2-3); the light transmissive portion has a lens surface portion angled at a sufficient with respect to light rays emitted from the first source such that the light rays are internally reflected at the lens surface portion (figs2-3); the transmission to the light path is parallel to the optical axis (figs 2-3); the first light source emits at least some light in a direction towards the second light source and wherein a portion of the lens intercepts and internally reflects the at least some light and redirects it generally along the optical axis (fig 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dickson.

Dickson discloses the claimed invention except for the recitation of the first light source being an LED or the first and second light source emitting light of different colors. With regards to the first light source being an LED, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute an LED for the light source in the system of Dickson. The examiner takes Official Notice that the use of LEDs is old and well known in the illumination art. One would have been motivated since LEDs are recognized in the illumination art to have many desirable advantages, including reduced size, high efficiency, low power consumption, long life, resistance to vibrations, and low heat production, over other light sources. With regards to the first and second light emitting light of different colors, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the first and second light source of Dickson different colors, since the courts have stated that matters relating to ornamentation only which have no mechanical function cannot be relied upon to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. In re Seid, 161 F.2d 229, 73 USPQ 431 (CCPA 1947).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-11 are allowed.
7. Claim s 15-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art cited of record does not teach a lens having a curved refracting surface defining an optical axis, a first light source positioned on the optical axis a second light source spaced apart from the first light source away from the optical axis and the lens defining an aperture registered with the second light source.
